

ARCHITECTURAL AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL SOCIETY

OF DURHAM AND NORTHUMBERLAND

Registered Charity no 227397

The Society is for all those who enjoy the history and archaeology of the region and aims to:

- promote an appreciation of the wealth of the archaeological and architectural heritage in our region
- bring together all those with similar interests in a range of informative, enjoyable and memorable activities
- promote the protection of the historic environment by engaging in local partnerships and acting in an advisory capacity to local authority planning authorities and others.
- Encourage the study, protection and appreciation of the historic environment in all its activities.
- organises events and lectures to encourage as full a participation as possible from members and the general public.

Arch & Arch also deals with enquiries and requests for information from the public on issues relating to the history and archaeology of our region. It supports initiatives to further such aims within local environmental partnerships and acts as a pressure group to help ensure that historic sites are properly protected, acting in an advisory capacity to local planning authorities and others.

Benefits of membership

- Those with an email address receive regular emails relating to Society activities and other items of local interest.
- Monthly lectures from September to June, usually held in Durham.
- Programme of excursions throughout the summer with visits to archaeological sites, historic buildings, museums and guided walks.
- Occasional hands-on activities – including excavations and standing- building recording.
- Receipt of free, regular (usually bi-annual) newsletters.
- Receipt of a copy of the latest Durham Archaeological Journal (Ordinary and Joint members)
- Member's Meeting, where individuals can talk about their own interests or travels and bring artefacts for identification and discussion, usually held in December.
- The AGM, held in May, is usually combined with a visit to a heritage site or museum in the region.
